My meowster attended The Nephilim's Samhain celebration.

Background

Loved the Neph for years but only managed to get a chance to see them recently.

Very forgettable.

Balaam and the Angel

I thought I knew some of their songs. It didn't. Now having listened to them play what I presume are their best songs I still don't. They were pretty good; just not my cup of tea.

The Nephilim

Difficult to judge how good they actually are. I love the Neph and will never be an unbiased judge. They got up on stage, turned on the dry ice machine to max and then played a selection of their best songs. Minimal interaction with crowd and then a single encore.

Would I go again? Heck yes.
